County erases schools' debt

Duckworth elected hospital president

Election of Trustee Joe K. Duckworth of Beat 1 as president and approval of pay raises amounting to over $8,500 a year effective Oct. 1 were the major items disposed of at a harmonious session Tuesday night by Hancock General Hospital board of trustees. Duckworth succeeded Cornelius J. Ladner. Clifton Saucier and John D. Rutherford, Jr., were re-elected vice president and treasurer respectively while Pock Mauffray was elected secretary, succeeding Duckworth. Sam L. Favre, Jr., was re-appointed board attorney. All elections were unanimous.

McFarland new medical staff chief

A medical staff of 32 physicians and three dentists was approved for the next year by Hancock General Hospital board of trustees Tuesday night. On the active list were Drs. W. L. McFarland, M. J. Wolfe, A. K. Martinolich and J. B. Levens. Emergency privileges, pending completion of formal requirements, were listed for Drs. Frank Garbin and Paul L. Odom.

The three dentists were Drs. John L. Griffin, O. J. Mollere and B. L. Ramsey. One honorary staff member, Dr. R. L. Faust, and four inactive staff members, Drs. Robert L. McKinley, T. A. Quigley, N. M. Campbell and Frank L. Schmidt were approved.

IN PRIC COURT - Sandra Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams of Waveland, is one of two girls who will serve in the homecoming court Saturday at Pearl River Junior College. A freshman majoring in English, Sandra is a feature of the String of Pearls and was queen of Bay High School's homecoming court last year. Queen will be Dorothy Ladner of Poplarville. Wildcats meet Hinds Eagles in football game Saturday at Poplarville.

The county school system's old $30,000 debt to the board of supervisors was finally wiped off the books Monday when the supervisors voted to transfer that sum from the county school bond fund to the various 16th Section principal funds from which the loans had been made.

Supervisors also agreed to lend another $21,000 to the school system on a four-year note to pay for the new buses it has just bought. The new loan is to be made from 16th Section principal money as soon as the county school board adopts the appropriate resolution agreeing to the terms of the note.

County Superintendent Robert F. Ladner and the school board attorney, Walter J. Phillips, conferred informally with the supervisors before the meeting started, and Robert Hoffman of the state auditor's staff who is here checking the county's finances, spoke with the supervisors' president, R. G. Hubbard, Jr., before the $30,000 debt was cleared. It had been a topic of controversy between the two bodies for several years.

Utility lack hikes school bond figure

The city schools' proposed building program has run into a snag in the way of sewerage, water and gas service at the Blue Meadow Road site for the new high school which may force total cost of the necessary bond issue over the $1 million mark. That fact evolved at Monday night's meeting of trustees of the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District and the board agreed to recess until 7:30 p.m. today to get firm estimates on cost of installing these utilities so it can proceed with drafting the necessary petition to City Commission Council for the bond issue notice.

Trustees are moving toward a mid-November goal for the bond election. With this in mind they directed Superintendent J. D. McCullough to get an estimate from the architect for the program, Charles Proffier, on cost of field drain and septic tank for the high school site. City officials are to supply figures on the cost of installing gas and water lines to the location.

This additional cost developed when it became apparent that the utilities improvement

Port head protests 1-10 bridge plans

Greater minimum clearances for the proposed Interstate 10 bridge over Jordan River were requested Wednesday by the president of the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission.

H. H. Shattuck telegraphed the Corps of Engineers at Mobile urging vertical clearance on the twin fixed bridges be at least 35 feet and horizontal at least 100 feet, rather than the 20 and 50 feet in the plan submitted by the Bureau of Public Roads.

The upper Jordan is a haven for many craft during hurricanes," Shattuck noted, saying the planned clearances would make it non-navigable for all practical purposes.

The port commission head also contended the "vast potential for recreational as well as industrial use of the upper Jordan would be negated," unless greater clearance is required. He took the position the present plan would seriously interfere with the port body's objective of an orderly development of the county's waterways.

Polly peers at Lady Bird

By POLLY MAZARAKIS

Several hundred Hancock Countyans got at least a glimpse of the First Lady when the 19 car Lady Bird Special passed through Bay St. Louis and Waveland a little after 6 p.m. last Friday. Due to shortness of time and for security reasons it was not possible to arrange for a stop here, but Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson and her youngest daughter Luci Baines, made an unscheduled appearance on the platform of the red, white and blue coach and smiled and waved to cheering throngs at Bay St. Louis and Waveland depots; and one resident, Mrs. A.R. Jenkins of Waveland was given a personal "hi" by Lady Bird in return to her greeting as she stood near the truck at the Washington Street and Railroad Avenue intersection.

Your reporter missed the hometown excitement as we were at Edgewater Station to be sure of a close look at Mrs. Johnson and her retinue on arrival there at 5:12 p.m. When the train halted we were about five feet away from the platform and immediately began snapping pictures. As all write-ups have pretty thoroughly covered the list of dignitaries present, we'll just give our impression of the two members of the First Family we came in contact with.

MTO staff still tops 2500 mark

Employment at Mississippi Test Operations continued over the 2,500 mark this week and predictions are it will run pretty close to that level until the weather breaks this winter. With no rain and temperatures ranging from 41 to 78, it's termed "perfect construction weather."

Total count is 2,550, including 2,052 construction workers. Corps of Engineers has 154 at the site and 13 at its real estate acquisition office in the Bay; NASA has 40 while General Electric has jumped to 206. North American Aviation has added a secretary to bring its total to three. Others remain fairly constant.

Malan Construction Division of Koppers, Inc., has not yet moved in its construction force for the giant dual test stand which is expected to stabilize the work force as other jobs are completed.

Bids are to be taken next month on the second S-11 test stand estimated at $8 million. Latest figures show 18 projects completed at $7,476,044 and 28 active contracts at a cost of $78,516,100.

GIRL SCOUT TEA Bay St. Louis neighborhood Girl Scouts will entertain with their traditional Juliette Love tea from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday in the cafeteria of Our Lady of the Gulf School.

Record files bulge

Eye new c'thouse

Need for a new Courthouse building was revived when the board of supervisors met Monday and considered means of preserving and revising record files to provide emergency space in the vault.

Appointment of the county's representatives on the regional planning commission was postponed again, pending determination of how the county can legally contribute to financing the group's activities.

Joseph V. Calson of Waveland, who is serving as president of the regional body, said he had conferred with the state attorney-general's office about allocating money from the county general fund. Calson said he was advised one county was making the grant from the general fund as it had been financing its county planning commission from this source in the past.

Lucien M. Cox, board attorney, informed the supervisors a written opinion was necessary before he would advise any action, warning the members they could be sued on their bond if they appropriated the money illegally.

Supervisors had refused to levy millage for regional planning for the fiscal year starting Oct. 1, arguing they first wanted assurance that state and federal aid for county planning was forthcoming. However, they now appear convinced the county program will not be jeopardized by the regional group which also embraces Harrison and Pearl River Counties and St. Tammany Parish, La.

A representative of Tom L. Ketchings Co., a firm handling preservation of public records, was asked to draw up specifications for bids on undertaking such a project for Hancock County after he reported on an inspection of papers and filing at the Courthouse.

He warned the board that the Legion women map campaign for members

Plans for a membership round-up during October and November were completed when the American Legion auxiliary met Monday night at the Legion Home with Mrs. Clyde Craig, president, in charge.

Assisting with the member drive will be Mesdames C.J. Piazza, John Wilkerson, John D. Rutherford, Jr., Henry Capadona, Gordon Romanoff and Craig.

Mrs. Leroy Luke, chairman for the veterans' gift shop, reminded auxiliary members of the Nov. 15 deadline to donate their gifts.

Mrs. Teddo Thomas won the door prize. Hostesses for the social hour were Mesdames Wilkerson and Lena Cuevas.

Waveland Notes

It is with great pleasure that this column extends a most cordial and sincere welcome to Rev. Kevin Bambrick, the new pastor of St. Clare's Catholic Church.

Guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Rosignol were Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Russo, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin D'Aquin and son, Robbie, and Alvin Bode, all of New Orleans.

Mrs. Duane Bourgeois returned home Monday from Gulfport Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Manfre of New Orleans spent the weekend at their home on Waveland Avenue.

Happy birthday to Cory Bielstein who celebrated his ninth birthday on Saturday at a party at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Drew and daughters, Lynette, Guiana and Mary Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Bourgeois, and Mrs. Alfred Bourgeois spent the weekend at the Bourgeois home on Waveland Avenue. While here they attended the wedding of Mrs. Alfred Bourgeois' granddaughter, Miss Carolyn Ann Bourgeois, and Eugene Ramond on Sunday afternoon.

ring ceremony before the altar, backed with arrangement of white dahlias and greenery.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bourgeois of Waveland and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Ramond of Bay St. Louis.

Escorted by her father, the bride had as matron of honor Mrs. James Johnson of Waveland. Miss Susan Pichon of Bay St. Louis was maid of honor.

Larry Peterson was best man for his brother-in-law while Lloyd Patrick Bourgeois, brother of the bride, was groomsmen. Ushering were Lee Ferrell and Vernon Ramond, brother of the groom.

The bride's parents entertained afterwards with a reception at the parish hall where the green and white color scheme was followed in decorations. Many relatives of the young couple from out of town were here for the occasion.

After a brief wedding trip along the Mississippi Coast the couple is now at home on McDonald Lane in Bay St. Louis. Mrs. Ramond is employed at Meyer's Grocery and Mr. Ramond is with Gold Medal Bakery.

Teen Times

Time for another small dose of Dorothy Jean's creed, and incidentally we're pleased over the fact that no one has made adverse comments regarding these hits of youthful philosophy—we don't expect any praise as being too good just isn't 'in' at the moment, but we'll consider it real 'fine' if you'll just read the next few lines and give them at least a second's thought: "Be interested in everyone, and not be one who can't talk. Prepare yourself in your friends' interest so that you can talk and be merry. Don't be ignorant. It takes so little time to learn about this and that." Enough for now. . . on with the news.

Bay High's first loss of the season to arch rival Long Beach was a blow to Tiger players, coaches and supporters, but no one can win them all and the home team was hurt by the loss of Dick Messinger who was forbidden to play due to a strep throat. Dick wanted to get into the fracas regardless, but his MD said flatly NO, which is just as well as that particular illness can have serious after-effects if neglected. Losing the game didn't prevent students from enjoying their post-game beach party which was held by the Municipal pier on a perfect night for such entertainment.

Much better news from our other local teams. St. Stanislaus was victorious in their tilt with Thibodaux and North Central rolled over Harrison Central in a breeze.

As we viewed and exchanged a word or two with Lucy Baines Johnson at Edgewater Station last Friday and so many have asked about her appearance, etc., we'll pass on our personal verdict to all. Although we are sure she must have been weary of smiling at so many for so long, we were most favorably impressed. Lucy is ever so much prettier than her pictures and just about typical of our conception of the ideal American girl. She has lovely skin and wore little makeup and a very simple hairdo held in place by a green headband which matched her wool suit. As to be expected, she was quite poised and delivered a few impromptu sentences to the youth in the audience quite effectively and calmly. There are some people who just aren't in the least photogenic and she unfortunately is among this group. . . and although she appears a bit hefty on tv and in photos, she's really quite slender. I know there are many who will think "it just can't be," but maybe she'll return and you'll have a chance to observe for yourselves.

Both Bay High and St. Stanislaus selected Homecoming queens and their court early this year, much to the relief of the girls who will have enough time to select their costumes and be certain colors won't conflict or be duplicated. Judy Comprens will reign at Tiger stadium and her maids will be Melva Luke, Nancy Swords, Susan Clark and Nancy McDonald. Selected by St. Stanislaus were Erin Heltzmann, queen and members of her court are Jackie Kingston, Ann Gottschalk, Priscilla Cook and Jo Mary Artigues.

Just about everybody from Southern must have come home for the weekend. Some were Ann Bryant, sporting a lovely new bright red automobile. Carol Western, Tier Mayfield, Jo Ann McCullough, Paula Crider, Karen Williams, who was accompanied by Jimmy Birdsong; Mildred Parker, Ken Monti and J.P. Comprens.

Happy birthday greetings go to Jay Lagasse, who incidentally came home from PRJC for the occasion. Friday, Oct. 9, Jay also got wet wishes having sustained bruise burns and abrasions in an automobile accident last weekend. Mary Doug Martzough cut her cake on the 9th too and Allan Sarras celebrated on Tuesday, Oct. 13.

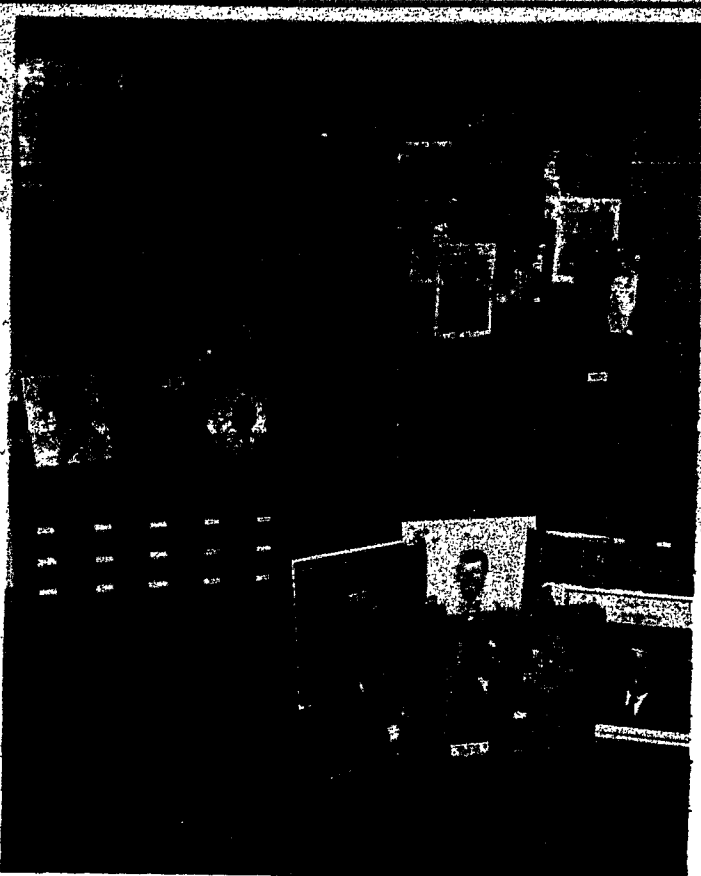

Many local teenagers turned out for the bonfire sponsored by Protestant Youth League at which Bill Krisher was guest speaker.

We're told that Kathy Payne was a little angry because Steve Wenzel wasn't able to come over from New Orleans, but we're sure all will be forgiven on his next visit.

A boy named Edward is said to be Elaine's latest heart interest, and by the way, who is V.W.'s new boy friend?

Catchie Crider finally had her birthday party Saturday night after having postponed a bit of time for informal practice.

TRIBUTE TO PRESIDENT KENNEDY—An exhibit honoring the late President John F. Kennedy has been assembled by Sister Elise, librarian at St. Joseph Academy, and her student assistants which is on view from 7:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. through Sunday in the convent library. It contains works by the late president, articles and reviews about him and numerous souvenirs, photographs, plaques and the like. Many of the articles were gifts of Sister's friends and family.

due to the weather last week. Guests, mostly North Bay Elementary band members, dancing and eating hot dogs, chips, dips, cake, etc., were Mary Beth Cardin, Eleanor Turnipseed, Bud Bellamy, Jean Dunaway, Jane Languirnd, Virginia Wehre, Kathy Payne, Constance Buidin, Gary Walker, Michael Long, Cary Chandler, Orville Ferrell, Carl Green, Joe Donaway (and the gang sang Happy Birthday to You to Joe too, as Oct. 10, was his birthday); Mary Shattuck, Vickie Scharf, Anne Smith, Sharon Redding, Carolyn Redding, Gene Greenwald, David Hubbard, Paul Wood, Elaine Fricke, Debbie McCullough, Hiram Wheeler, William Redo and Rod Villere.

We know Larry Sauer, III, is much too mature for this column, but as he's still studying in the Air Force, we group him with college students. His friends will be happy to learn that he leaves Anchorage, Alaska, on the 20th of this month and is due to arrive here for a 30 day leave around Nov. 1.

Jeanne Lagasse surprised brother Jay with a birthday party on the occasion of his 18th birthday on Friday Oct. 9. Guests partaking of refreshments, dancing and the like included another sister Gaynel, Ronnie Ferrell, Kendi Callahan (she's the pretty blonde we spotted with Jay a couple of weeks ago.) Bonnie Hack, David Curet, Howard Carver, Pat 7777, George Anderson, Janet Saucier, Tom Green, Josie Callahan, Gabe Favre and Kenny Ladner. Jay's grandmother, Mrs. Fred Meyers of New Orleans was also on hand for the fete.

One of the most belated birthday greetings to date goes to Tommy Hayward who was 17 on Sept. 16.

And apologies are in line for Donna Johnston—Donna was 17 on Oct. 8, not 12 on the night as was stated in a recent column.

Two members of the Bay boxing team, Emile Bourgeois and Gerald Bennett, will participate in a match at 8 p.m. Friday in Biloxi.

Faye Monti and Judy Favre now are driving around in their own brand new automobiles. Faye's is a bright red number and Judy has a sand colored sports model.

Here's this week's bit of Valda Picard's Tiger talk: The Pickle Rose of Texas, a wild west show, was Bay High Band's half time presentation in their ill-fated encounter with Long Beach. Valda starred a Rose with Mike Long, Dennis Bowers and Gary Seavey. Theme of the drama was Rose's indiscretion about which of the three to choose and as the villain and Lone Ranger were involved in a shoot-down, Rose strolled off with two Tiger football players, John Shattuck and Don Wilk. Band members wore bright colored cowboy shirts instead of the usual uniform jackets and cowboy hats and majorettes twirled canes maintaining the western atmosphere.

Two new band members to welcome, Remmie Lewis who is in the drum section will play tympani in concert band. Mickey Marshall, a real great musician, hails from New Mexico.

A certain flutist and a basketball player manage to find quite a bit of time for informal practice.

FHA and 4-H clubs elect at Bay High

Future Homemakers of America and 4-H Clubs at Bay High School have elected officers for the school year.

The first period FHA club chose Annette Vaughan as president with Nancy Swords as vice president; Gayle Gibbons, secretary; Sally Scharf, treasurer; Kathleen McAuley, historian; Jane Walker, Song leader; and Jeannie Rutherford, reporter. The club's first program is scheduled for Oct. 21.

Ninth and tenth grade 4-H officers elected were Frances Cochran, president; Annette Vaughan, vice president; Elaine Bourgeois, secretary and Lucy Carver, treasurer.

Officers for 4-H juniors and seniors are Geraldine Kidd, president; Kathleen Maloney, vice president; Linda Dumann, secretary; Pat Perriclaro, reporter, and Janelle Kingston and Ellen McDonald, recreation leaders.

In coast ceramics show Handicapped youth winner

Wesley Price, popularly known as Dubble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Price of Waveland is the proud possessor of four trophies in his first competition in a brand new hobby.

Dubble began the study of ceramics as the first pupil of Mrs. Chester Moore in her Seaside Ceramics studio on Coleman Avenue in Waveland when it opened in August. His accomplishment is more than remarkable as he suffered a severe case of crippling polio when a very small child.

He entered his first two pieces, bright red horse head bookends, in the handicapped children's division of the annual Gulf South Ceramic Show at Edgewater Plaza last weekend competing with talent from all over the Coast. He won three ribbons: first place for best in show, best in division, best in handicapped and a white and gold ceramic Freddie, the equivalent of Hollywood's Oscars, for best in his field of competition.

He is not, however, content to rest on his laurels and is at present busily working on an entry for the upcoming ceramic show in Slidell, La.

DUBBLE PRICE AND HIS TEACHER—His teacher, Mrs. Moore, show winning 12 ribbons out of 26 entries.

Taxes and churches

The American concept of separation of church and state has always been complicated by differing ideas of what is properly the concern of the church and what only of the state. To "render unto Caesar what is Caesar's" legitimately has many interpretations.

The legal prohibitions run against the state in this field and the U. S. Supreme Court's decision in the school prayer cases may seem picaresque, but it is currently the law and was not as illogical as its opponents claim. On the other hand church property, at the least that used for church purposes, is general exempted from property taxes. The same can be said of income received by a church from property ownership.

Whether church property or income should be exempt from taxation or not is certainly at least more than a little dependent on whether churches stay out of Caesar's realm. For some time all our churches have used the pulpit on occasion to speak out for or against things we consider were outside their proper realm. Usually, at least, these instances were associated with "social problems". Of one of the more flagrant cases we early witnessed, however, were Virginia Methodists during the 1928 presidential campaign between President Herbert Hoover and Gov. Al Smith.

What brings this up at this time is yesterday's news story of Episcopalians at that church's convention signing, as participants of the convention, a flagrant, and palpably not entirely accurate, denunciation of the Republican candidates for president and vice president, Senator Barry Goldwater and Congressman William Miller.

Incidents such as this clearly involve Caesar's realm. When churches stray into that field they should lose their special treatment as religious bodies.

Letters to The Editor

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:
I am writing in regards to a highway patrolman I met Friday, Sept. 24, on U.S. 90. Like a lot of people I had always thought of them as heartless and mean, always sitting along the road to stop someone and give them a ticket for something. But, after the young highway patrolman (McMurray I believe was his name) helped save my baby's life I have changed my mind. He was one of the nicest people I have ever met.

My baby had drunk furniture polish. A neighbor, Ken King, started to the hospital with us and something happened to his car. We got another man whose name I do not know and started on.

All the time my baby was choking and coughing. This man saw the highway patrol sitting along the road and stopped and we got in the car with him. He turned the siren on and took us on to the hospital. We got there in time to save her life. But he did not just take me there and let me out. He stayed with me until he saw everything was all right and came back on Sunday to visit the baby.

If all police forces were like this man people would respect them more I am sure. My husband and I want to thank him very much for what he did. And to thank Dr. Odom and the staff at Hancock General Hospital for saving our baby's life.

Would you please print this letter as it might help change the minds of others about highway patrolmen as it has me.

MR. AND MRS. ALBERT BULLOCK
Bay St. Louis

EDITOR'S NOTE: We are pleased to carry this report of Patrolman McMurray's helpfulness. However, we believe our readers will find highway patrolmen in Mississippi and elsewhere, as least helpful almost all the time, though we would not promise a return visit to the hospital.

TOWN OF WAVELAND, MISS.

LADY BIRD SPECIAL SNUBS HANCOCK COUNTY WITH SPEED AND NO STOP

A Conservative View By James J. Kilpatrick

Senator Goldwater has tried to make a little hay in this campaign by whacking away at the Administration's farm policies. The Senator has been especially critical of continued high price supports, but he has covered the whole field. Last week Mr. Johnson denounced the Goldwater views as "nonsense".

What is Mr. Goldwater's theme? Why, sir, he is trying to sell on the farm what he tries to sell in the city. He is preaching the gospel of limited government, personal responsibility, and larger areas of individual freedom. Is such a gospel nonsense?

It may be instructive to glance back through the Federal Register for the single month of September. The scope of the federal government's involvement in agriculture may not be wholly understood. What have the federal farm managers been up to lately?

At random, one finds a formidable new regulation headed, Reconstitution of Farms, Allotments and Bases, promulgated under the old Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938. This is still the basic law. The revised regulation runs to 24 columns of fine type. It appears to cover everything that conceivably might touch upon acreage allotments and marketing quotas for cotton, peanuts, rice, tobacco, and wheat. It even provides that county committees "may divide allotments and bases in accordance with a will by the proprietor where settlement of an estate is involved. Allotments, it seems, are like family silver; they are heirlooms—down on the farm.

Last month the federal government was regulating the shipment of California lemons and oranges, Texas grapefruit, and Hawaiian bananas. It was regulating the marketing of prunes and almonds and grapes. One regulation dealt judiciously with the size of walnuts. It had been recommended "that the minimum diameter of 'jumbo' size walnuts be increased from 80/64 to 84/64 inches," but such a change "will be postponed until additional data concerning the need for the increased size is available."

September was a great month for fixing diameters. One regulation provides for the marketing of South Florida avocados in sizes from 3 1/2 to 4 3/16 inches. Seedless grapefruit cannot be smaller than 3 9/16 inches, and seeded grapefruit no smaller than 3 15/16 inches. Peaches from Mesa County, Colo., must not be smaller than two inches in diameter. Florida limes shipped prior to October 22 must be no smaller than 1 7/8 inches. The same size is fixed for Irish potatoes in Meador and Siskiyou Counties of California and for all the counties of Oregon except Malheur. But Malheur County is not neglected: its prunes are covered by a separate decree.

After page of federal regulations last month dealt with controls on sugar. Florida sugar cane producers must pay not less than $1.35 an hour for tractor operators. The Great Western Sugar Co. is assigned a base allotment of 25,7106 per cent of the total crop; the Amalgamated Sugar Co. gets 13,5559 per cent; the American Crystal Sugar Co. gets 11,6183 per cent; eight other processors divide up the rest. To four decimal points.

The month saw milk price control regulations affecting St. Louis, Memphis, Fort Smith, Toledo, Sioux City, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island and eastern Colorado. The month saw a base price support of $224 a ton fixed for peanuts. Export cotton allotments shall be determined by multiplying the average yield per acre in pounds of lint cotton for the farm for the 1964 crop by the export market average of the 1964 crop on the farm. And so on, and so on, and so on.

It is impossible adequately to convey the cumulative effect of these infinite regulations. They comprise what Tocqueville prophesied for the United States 125 years ago. He foresaw the day when a new form of despotism would cover the surface of American society "with a network of rules, minute and uniform, through which the most original minds and the most energetic characters cannot penetrate, to rise above the crowd." This is what Barry Goldwater is talking about; and he is not talking nonsense.

Month in and month out, these suffocating decrees pour from the federal mill. Presumably, they all arise from the power vested in Congress to regulate commerce among the states. They create "order"; it is said; they contribute to "stability"; they prevent "chaos." But what do they do to the vitality of a free marketplace?

Mr. Goldwater's gospel, to judge from the polls, is not catching on. Perhaps he is not the best prophet to preach these ancient ideals. The larger trouble is that the Senator's voice is a voice in a philosophical wilderness—a wasteland populated by men so absorbed in the federally fixed diameters of peaches, potatoes and limes that they forget the dimensions of freedom.

Merry-Go-Round

By Drew

WASHINGTON—The resignation of Barry Goldwater as Senator from Arizona is a development that has caused a great deal of speculation.

The speculation is that Goldwater came from Arizona country and has served as its champion for several years, described the Senator.

But Seward complained: "At the convention the new advisers seemed to seal the door so no room at all for compromise or for people including myself, had the feeling that you had the feeling that if you disagreed you were considered disloyal."

Other friends and advisers privately complain that the new managers who have taken over the campaign call them the Goldwater campaign anyone who disagrees with them.

People who have been close to Goldwater complain that they can't break through the shell that has been pulled tightly around him. His phone calls are carefully screened.

Even at public gatherings, friends who have been close to Goldwater have been blocked by Pinkerton guards hired by the new crowd.

Newspapermen who used to have easy access can no longer reach him. Some have been asked to submit questions to him. But his managers press to question him and won't let him speak. They seem to be afraid of what he might say.

Medicare roll call

The Senate-House conferees on social security have become hopelessly split over medical benefits and broke up without agreement, declaring that it up to the voters to express their feelings.

But the conferees nervously neglected to register approval or disapproval at the polls. For the benefit of the voters back home, the obtained the secret roll call. Here is how the roll call went down on the Medicare question.

For—Senators Long of Louisiana, Smathers of North Carolina, Gore of Tennessee, Boggs of Louisiana and King of California. Against—Senators Williams of Delaware and Kansas, also Congressmen Curtis of Missouri and Wisconsin, all Republicans. House Ways and Means Committee Chairman Wilbur Mills of Arkansas, a Democrat, also a Democrat, abstained from voting. He was personally opposed to Medicare but he did support the Senate majority.

Headlines and footnotes

Lockport Felt Co. employees have complained that Congressman William Miller, the Wisconsin Vice President, joined with management to put the company to sleep out of the plant. They would be fired if they claimed they would be fired if caught reading labor literature. Miller was chief speech writer, Fulton Lewis, III, from the on his campaign plane. The GOP Vice President complained that Lewis was "too dumb" to be a One who suggested privately that Miller should bridge and ban him from writing speeches.

Mrs. U.N. Durbin

Funeral services for Mrs. U.N. Durbin, 62, formerly of Waveland, who died in that city Monday morning, will be held at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday at the funeral home of Dr. J. H. Turner, 1000 N. Main St., Bay St. Louis.

Surviving are her husband, Dr. J. H. Turner, and four children: Miss Loretta Durbin, Mrs. S. J. Taylor, Mrs. E. H. Fitzpatrick and four brothers, Edward J. Bernard, C. Albert J. and Cyril P. Riba.

DROP OUTS ARE TOPIC

A program on drop outs and how to cope with that problem will be presented when the Parents-Teacher Assn. of Logansport School meets at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

PLAN BIBLE CLASS

A Bible class for beginners will begin at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. John Landrum, 208 North Beach. Information may be secured by phoning HO7-5126.

Bridge plans...

Friday is the deadline for protests to be lodged with the Engineers' office at Mobile.

Ladies have led the news for the past two weeks, and we'll begin by stating for the record that we certainly enjoyed the First Lady's visit more than Hilda's blustery entrance and more blustery exit. Due to the usual official red tape it was impossible to arrange for the Lady Bird Special to come to a halt in the Bay and after observing precautions taken at Edgewater Station, we realize why. However, her appearance on the platform here was entirely unobscured and she waved to the local populace at the request of Dan Russell aided by calls to Democratic headquarters by the boys, Red Glass, and with assistance from Fred Curren's most attractive cousin who just happens to head Women for Johnson in the state of Mississippi.

On Lady Bird's visit

We also want to thank everyone who turned out to return Mrs. Johnson's wave and think the crowds at both the Bay and Waveland depots proved that Mississippians aren't the uncivilized lot as we're so frequently pictured in national publications, newspapers and on tv. Regardless of anyone's political convictions, she is the wife of the President of the United States and deserves the respect of all, and the mob at Edgewater cheering proved that there are still lots of conscientious citizens in this area.

Iva May (Mrs. John) McDonald represented Hancock County on the welcoming committee. Mrs. Roger P. Sharp did the honors for Pass Christian; Dan Russell was with the group that boarded the special in Mobile and familiar faces spotted at Edgewater included those of Ruth and Fred Curren and WROA's Gene Mangham and F.M. Smith in addition to just about every prominent politician in the state.

Due to conflicting engagements we did not actually ride on the train although we had the opportunity to board it at Edgewater but would have had to have stayed on it all the way to New Orleans. We did have a ringside stand (there were no seats) about three feet from Lady Bird and exchanged a few words with her lovely younger daughter, Lucy Baines. The conversation went mostly: "I'm sorry, I am having a hard time hearing you," from Lucy, and your reporter repeating the pleas—"Please wave as you go through Bay St. Louis and Waveland." Which was the only message we really wanted to impart. . . and with Russell Long's booming voice to compete with, we consider the mission a success. More details in a feature story which will appear with pictures taken on the scene. (which we hope will be at least seeable.)

Full report on our sick chums

We are sorry to inform you that most of our news this week will be get well wishes as all of our spare time (what's that?) was spent at Hancock General watching husband Herman recuperate from pneumonia. However, he's almost as good as new and we can report that Jennie (Mrs. Sylvester) Benigno was released from the hospital on Saturday after spending 11 days there and Florence Poegele is at her Clermont Harbor home after having a real siege with her badly fractured wrist. Mrs. Clay Baxter was also "sprung" early Saturday and is recuperating at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Schreyer. David Smallwood is improving after being taken to Hancock General having suffered a heart attack. Wife Myrtle has been spending most of her time there keeping an eye on his condition. Marty (Mrs. John) Glover was another pneumonia victim and father-in-law, Cyril, had a very sore throat, although that wasn't exactly where they injected the shot for his ailment, and we're sorry to hear that Ruth (Mrs. Fred) Curren is ill, although we don't know what ails her as one of the children informed us she "was sick in bed" Sunday.

Get well and double sympathy wishes are on the way to good friend Mabel Green whose brother-in-law Paul Jaubert passed away in New Orleans Friday and her brother, Marvin Williams, succumbed in Mobile early the following day after a long illness and all this happened while Mabel was confined to bed with an attack of pleurisy.

Gerald Price, Jr., received emergency treatment at the hospital Friday after he dropped a compressor on his toe. . . and Bertha (Mrs. Alvin) Genin says she too has an injured toe, but isn't sure just which one hurts!

Bruffie reaches milestone

Now for a little good news: That lovely lady, Mrs. Archibald Bruff, affectionately known as "Bruffie" celebrated her 90th birthday on Saturday, Oct. 11, at a party given in her honor by Mabel (Mrs. Turk) Carter at her Beach Blvd. home. "Bruffie" looked so pretty with her blue dress and earrings matching her eyes accented by a pink stole.

Also welcome in the report that former residents Marion and Arnold Kohn are now parents of a little daughter born in Del Norte, Colo. on September 29. Arnold's mother, Mrs. Irene Kohn, was on hand for the big event. Caroline Kiefer relayed the information as the Kohns had called asking how everyone here came through our almost hurricane last weekend.

Another new arrival—Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Thibodeaux of Bridge City, La. are proud parents of their first, a little girl, born at 5:40 a.m. at Hancock General on Saturday, Oct. 10. Mrs. Thibodeaux is the former Sylvia Burke of Bay St. Louis.

Another get well wish goes to Mrs. Tom Thum who was hospitalized after suffering a broken arm in a fall on the steps of her Clermont Harbor home. Little Theater Fans will be interested to learn of the betrothal of Nora Bolton (winner of local best actress award in 1963) and Ben Baker, formerly of Waveland, now living in Biloxi where he is active in that Little Theater group. They will be wed in Nora's home town, Pass Christian, on Oct. 30.

Louise (Mrs. Joe) Wymer is now on the mend after a real close call having gone into shock following surgery in a New Orleans hospital on Saturday. She fortunately responded NONOGENARIAN - Mrs. Archibald Bruff celebrates birthday cake at party celebrating her 90th year at home of Mrs. N.L. Carter Saturday afternoon. Standing by to lend hand is Mrs. L.T. Boyd of Waveland. Large group of friends shared the occasion and Mesdames T.T. Robin, Leo Seal, Renee de Montluzin and W.W. Balzar assisted in caring for large number of friends who attended occasion. to a blood transfusion and oxygen and we're hoping she'll be allowed to return home soon. Congratulations are in order for Eleanor and Bob Whitson who are proud parents of a brand new daughter. . . a two month old white French poodle that looks just like a fluffy powder puff.

Tootsie (Mrs. Dominick) Souler underwent tests in a Crescent City hospital on Saturday and is scheduled to return for x-rays next Saturday.

New buggies

Just about everybody seems to be buying new cars. . . Gerry and Charles Johnson have a very sporty new model as does Felton Cuevas.

Welcome to Waveland new-lyweds Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Morgan who were married last week in their former home, Bristol, Fla., and are now living on Nicholson Avenue.

A greeting to former residents, Mr. and Mrs. Russ Lader, who are now making their home in Mobile, Ala.

The Herb Wises chose an opportune time for their vacation. . . they were safely in Campbellville, Ky., while Hilda threatened the rest of us.

Sports scene

Travis Culbreath said he really played the specs Saturday, then changed his story when we asked where. . . so anyone interested will just have to give him a ring. . . as for hunting, Johnny Longo and Fred Bourgeois bagged a huge water moccasin near the Municipal Pier in Waveland last Friday afternoon. According to eye witnesses it neared sea serpent proportions. . . almost six feet in length. (and for newcomers) don't worry, he was just a stray from the swamps trying to get away from the storm. We see an occasional snake, but local models are fairly friendly!

Sidney Woods was released from Gulfport Memorial Hospital on Monday after doctors finally stopped a 10-day siege of hicough on Saturday. He's (Cont. on Page 9.)

Mrs. Russell speaks on driftwood at BWGC meet

Mrs. Dan M. Russell, Jr., presented a program on use of driftwood in arrangements with design and depth when Bay-Waveland Garden Club met last Thursday afternoon at the Garden Center on Lehigh Avenue.

Mrs. Ben Hill, president, conducted the business session and Bob Fern, here with the Week of Wives, sang.

James McCulloch who was an American delegate to the Children's International Summer Village in France last summer spoke on his experiences there.

Six new members were welcomed into the club. They are Mesdames George L. Seuzeneau, Jr., Joseph Viguerie, Dix Ashman, Paul Vegas, Thomas Whittington and Harold Green.

The club was reminded of the memorial book which has been donated by Mrs. Frank Embrey.

Refreshments were served afterwards by the hostesses, Mrs. R.M. Briggs, assisted by Mesdames A.G. Darragan, Renee de Montluzin, Powell Glass, Jr., Ben Hill, Jr., M.S. Kepp, Albert Kustin, Harold Powell and J.M. Robert.

The scrap book, made by Mrs. John Kelly, was second place in that competition of the Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs.

Miss Fayard is bride of AF officer

Miss Barbara Ann Fayard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Joseph Fayard of Bay St. Louis, became the bride of Lt. William Lawrence Foreman, USAF, in a double ring ceremony at noon Saturday at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church. Rev. Michael Kelly was celebrant for the nuptial mass.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride had as maid of honor Miss Stephanie Miller of New Orleans. Bridesmaids were Misses Penny Seibert of New Orleans, Dee Ash and Connie Bermond of Bay St. Louis, Miss Deborah Sue Fayard, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

Miss Sandra Geoffrey served as flower girl while Joe Curet was ring bearer and Rickey Fayard was trainbearer. They are cousins of the bride.

The groom, son of John Otney Foreman of Marianna, Ark., and Mrs. Christine Foreman of Fayetteville, Ark., had as his best man Larry Poolson of Bay St. Louis. Groomsmen were Gerald Fayard, brother of the bride; Harvey Choina of New Orleans and Joel Bourn of Bay St. Louis, both cousins of the bride. Lee Poolson and John Erskine, Jr., ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. Fayard were hosts for a reception after the ceremony at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Mrs. Alma Russell of Pass Christian kept the bride's book while Mrs. Myrtle Talutto of Bay St. Louis assisted serving the cake and Mrs. Agnes Bourn presided at the punch bowl.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to the Hawaiian Islands the couple will be at home at 7410-A Mt. Vernon St., Riverside, Calif., where Lieutenant Foreman is stationed at March Air Force Base.

Guests from out of town here for the nuptials included the groom's month, Mrs. Foreman from Fayetteville, Ark.; Mrs. Mary Ashworth of Houston, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Choina, Mr. and Mrs. Nezell Choina, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Steve Stevens, Mrs. M. Wyman and Mrs. Robert Blank, Jr., all of New Orleans.

Hancock General Hospital auxiliary's awards luncheon will be at Annie's Restaurant at noon Thursday, Oct. 29. OLG Parents Club is sponsoring a fund raising entertainment project in the school cafeteria on the same night.

Local animal lovers Martin Oiestad and Maybelle Van Trier fell prey to their soft hearts on a recent trip to Covington to see how the shelter there was run. Each adopted an orphan pup. More about our Hancock County project after a session with Mrs. McCutcheon, head of the Guilford haven who will start us off on the right foot by telling us what not to do first!

We're sort of trying to spot our sick notes so it won't sound as if everyone is ill, but Marie (Mrs. Chris the Barber) Ladner is another patient in Hancock General.

Jane and Owen Williams are in line for the award of the week for bravery above and beyond, etc. In addition to the fact that they have five children of their own, Owen teaches science, directs the Bay High marching band and a local artist, these spartans spent Saturday night helping our reporter chase-rona around 140 lively teenagers—for which they certainly deserve more than just a fanfare!

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS A- LONG THE WAY—Myriad small yellow butterflies fluttering gracefully over the browning landscape giving more a feeling of spring than autumn, the waters of the Gulf at sunset, almost an identical shade of the silvery-rose tinted sky with a lone shrimp boat to determine where water ends and horizon begins and the quiet of night as nocturnal insects have ceased their song as Ceres returns to her annual sojourn with Pluto. (Note: If the last sounds way out, read up on your Roman mythology.)

Randall stars as Hawks rout Rebels

Hancock North Central's Hawks rapped the Red Rebels a hard one Friday night when they played Harrison Central in a Gulf Coast Conference bout at Long Beach. It was a real display of 135-pound back Kenny Randall who scored five of the Hawk's seven touchdowns in the 45-12 rout.

Quarterback Eddie Peterson's tossing arm set up four of Randall's goals, and Randall dove over from the four for his fifth score. Peterson himself pushed over from a yard out for another, and Wendell Ladner chalked up HNC's seventh TD of the game.

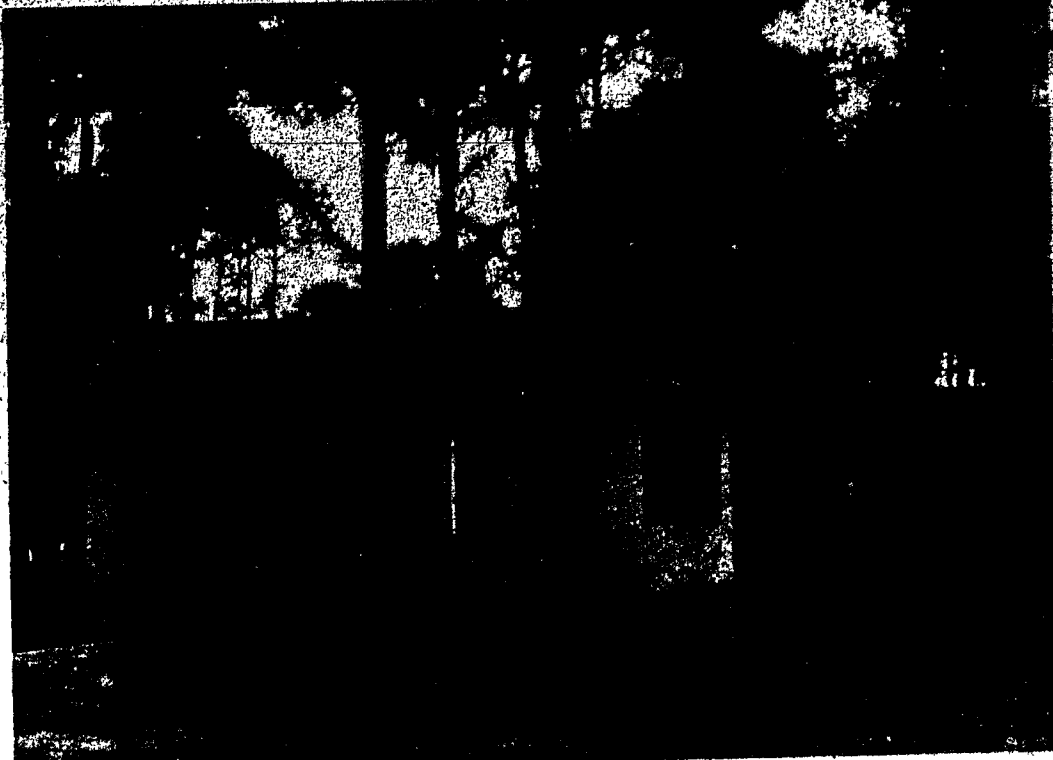

Hancock North Central's extra points came from Randall and Peterson on running plays and Paul Cuevas taking a pass from Peterson.

Harrison Central picked up its two hard markers on passes from quarterback Gene Sastro, one a 27-yarder to Joe Ball and the other a 17-yard pitch to Paul Wyndick.

Coach Ewell Lee's Hawk gridders suffered two probable losses for this week when Joel and Dale Whitfield had to be put on the injured list.

But with Wayne Cuevas rated tops at both offense and defense, and replacement players Jerry Ladner and Glyn Davis having shown their abilities, Hancock North Central will hit the road ready for battle when they go to Pass Christian tomorrow night.

Bay and bayou

By HANK EVANS

Of weeks ago we gave out with advice to boat householders regarding preparations against a what happens? Ours was one of the few boats that escaped difficulty from Hilda. We rode out hurricane comfortably except that the dog and the cats got wind and covered on deck, crying miserably. When the peak gusts reached Bay St. Louis, we were up, popped two 1-inch stern lines, pulled the boat up, and rammed her bow up on the beach. A few days of normal high tides, the boat should be fine. Meanwhile we can only apologize for partly Galere. But poor Mary, have you ladies ever seen a house on a 20-degree slant? Try trying an egg on it.

TOO MANY BEARCATS — Tiger fullback Stanley Burch tries to wiggle past horde of Bearcats as Long Beach stopped Bay High on the gridiron here Friday. (Photo by Ed Fayard, Jr.)

The Tigers tangled with a tougher type of tabby Friday night. Coach Lance Lumpkin's locals suffered their first defeat of the season, 14-12, when Long Beach's Bearcats invaded the Bay.

Forgetting that they were the underdog in pre-game predictions, the Long Beach grid men fired off on the first play of the game when Richard Daniels took Larry Johnson's kick-off and waltzed 85 yards to the goal, only to have the play nullified on penalty. The Bearcats didn't seem bothered by the setback; they steamrolled ahead until Melvin Dubuisson crashed over from the 5-yard stripe for the first score. A conversion pass from Alan Pitts to Eddie Collins set up Long Beach with an early 7-0 lead.

The game shaped up into a quarterback battle with the opening of the second period as Bearcat Pitts matched wits with Tiger Johnny Penton. With only three minutes gone, Pitts tossed to halfback Wayne Smith for a second goal and then booted the extra point.

The second half belonged to the Tigers, but too little, too late. After Danny Krankey took the kick-off Penton directed a 68-yard drive which he polished off with a magnificent 40-yard pass from the midfield line which Mike Strong carried over from the Bearcat's 10. Johnson's try for the kick was blocked by Long Beach.

Midway through the fourth quarter the Tigers got themselves set up on the Bearcat's 18-yard line and Penton took it from there, blasting to the final TD with Pitts hanging onto his back. Johnson's kick was wide to the right to leave Bay High with a two-point trailer. Bay High visits St. Martin this Friday to try out against the undefeated Yellow Jackets who are leading the Gulf Coast Conference so far this year. Long Beach will be entertaining Pearl River Central at home.

Invitational at PCI slated this weekend

A near record field is expected to tee off Saturday in the 10th annual amateur invitational tournament at Pass Christian Isles Golf Club. Chairman Jules Soulie said yesterday. Both Mickey Bellande and Mrs. George Armstrong who won their respective divisions last year are due to compete.

Eighteen holes of stroke play are scheduled Saturday to place competitors in their flights and another 18 holes Sunday to determine flight winners. A shrimp boil Friday night opens the social phase of the program. The traditional barbecue will be Saturday night and a social hour will follow awarding of prizes Sunday.

First tournament for a recently formed men's golf group on the coast was played last Thursday at PCI with the Gulf Hills team tallying minus 39 points to win in dog fight scoring. Next play will be Nov. 10 at Broadwater Golf Club. Representing PCI were Soulie, Ray Wilson, Dick Hammet, Sydney Prague, Paul Hass, Bill Kellogg, Woody Waggoner and Dick Merritt.

Loiacano in back for Canton

The Canton Bulldogs, with J.E. Loiacano as regular middle linebacker, beat the Charleston Rockets 20-14 Sunday to tie for first place in their pro league.

According to reports received here from Bulldog headquarters in Canton, Ohio, Loiacano is their "defensive ace" now, "he's quick as a cat on pass defense and can hit 'em like a—!"

The Bulldogs travel to Indianapolis this weekend to tangle with the Warriors there, then will go to Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 24 to play again against the Blazers whom they beat 27-17 in their second game of the season.

Beats building plan

Bay P-TA elects

Officers were elected by the Bay St. Louis High School and Elementary School Parent-Teacher Assn. at a joint meeting Tuesday night when the two organizations went on record unanimously in support of the city school system's proposed building program.

Superintendent J.D. McCullough outlined construction proposals and cited needs in light of growing enrollment. Motion for 100 per cent support was made afterwards by O.O. Swords.

The group, which laid plans to divide last spring, set the second Tuesday as meeting date for the high school P-TA and the third Tuesday for the elementary grade unit.

Mrs. Rene de Montuzin was elected president of the high school organization with Harry Scharf as vice president, Mrs.

Schools' debt...

At Hubbard's suggestion because the county road and bridge bond fund stands at $90,000 which is said to be sufficient to amortize all of its bonds, the board voted to discontinue putting state levied gasoline taxes into that fund. That money now will be earmarked for the road and bridge maintenance funds of the five supervisory districts as permitted by state law.

In addition 10 per cent of this tax money coming to Beats 4 and 5 was allocated funds to meet their bonded indebtedness.

The board went on record agreeing to accept Oak Harbor subdivision of Pearl River Development Corp. if the streets meet the county's specification. The firm earlier filed the necessary bond for its utility improvements and Monday's action was requested by the developer, Charles Hill, to clear the way for FHIA approval of the project.

Property of Warren E. Duthu, Owen C. Zary, Arthur Trauth, Tri-State Insurance Co., Joe King of Hattiesburg and John J. Asher was removed from the land rolls because of dual assessments while that of Felix Ladner and George A. Wedemeyer was added because it had been erroneously omitted.

program of the city probably would not be completed until one and a half to two years after the school building work is finished.

Sam L. Pavre, jr., board attorney, noted the need for adequate water supply for insurance costs. He also inquired whether the architect had included equipment figures in the estimate of building cost and was assured that item was figured.

Besides a new high school the program calls for additions to Valena C. Jones and Waveland Schools and dressing room facilities at Tiger Stadium.

McCullough said the city had informed him the school system, based on its $10 million assessment, could increase its bonded debt by $1,340,000. This is based on 15 per cent $1.5 million of the assessment. Debt now is $260,000, he said.

Besides discussing the building program and bond issue, the board adopted a resolution asking the city to borrow $22,000 for current expenses in anticipation of revenues to be repaid by next March and reviewed BayHigh's gridiron loss to Long Beach High School last week.
